

Swasthya Kalyan Homoeopathic Medical College & Research Centre

Newsletter

August 2024

Career prospects in Homoeopathic Pharmacy

Homoeopathic pharmacy, as a niche within the broader field of pharmacy, offers diverse career opportunities. The sector is focused on the preparation, regulation, and dispensing of homeopathic medicines, which are based on principles distinct from conventional pharmaceuticals.

Here's a look at the potential career paths and prospects in this field.

- 1. Homoeopathic Pharmacist Role: Homoeopathic pharmacists are responsible for preparing and dispensing homeopathic remedies. They ensure the quality and safety of these remedies, provide advice on their use, and maintain detailed records.
Opportunities: Employment opportunities are available in specialized homeopathic pharmacies, health food stores, and integrative medicine clinics. They may also work in research or manufacturing settings.
- 2. Research and Development Role: In research, professionals explore new homeopathic remedies and improve existing formulations. They work on clinical trials, efficacy studies, and quality control.
Opportunities: Positions can be found in research institutions, pharmaceutical companies, and academic settings.
- 3. Regulatory Affairs Specialist Role: Regulatory affairs specialists ensure that homeopathic products meet regulatory standards and assist in the approval processes for new remedies.
Opportunities: These specialists work with regulatory agencies, homeopathic product manufacturers, and industry organizations.
- 4. Education and Training Role: Educators and trainers develop and deliver curriculum on homeopathy. They may work in academic institutions, training centers, or provide continuing education for professionals.
Opportunities: Positions include teaching at homeopathic colleges or conducting workshops and seminars.
- 5. Consulting and Private Practice Role: Experienced professionals may offer consulting services to homeopathic hospitals or run their own homeopathic clinics.
Opportunities: This path requires a strong background in both homeopathic principles and business acumen.

6. Product Development and Marketing Role: In product development, professionals work on creating and marketing new homeopathic remedies. They may be involved in branding, market research, and promotional activities.

Opportunities: Positions in this area are available with homeopathic product manufacturers and marketing firms.

Skills and Qualifications

1. Educational Background: Typically, a degree in pharmacy with specialization in homeopathy or a specific homeopathic qualification is required. Advanced degrees or certifications can enhance career prospects.
2. Knowledge and Expertise: A deep understanding of homeopathic principles, remedy preparation, and pharmaceutical regulations is crucial.
3. Communication Skills: Effective communication is important for advising patients, collaborating with healthcare professionals, and managing teams.

Challenges and Considerations

1. Regulatory Hurdles: Different countries have varying regulations for homeopathic products, which can affect career opportunities and practices.
2. Public Perception: The efficacy of homeopathy is debated, which may impact the acceptance and growth of the field.
3. Job Market: The niche nature of homeopathy means that job opportunities may be less abundant compared to conventional pharmacy roles.

Overall, careers in homeopathic pharmacy offer a range of opportunities for those interested in alternative medicine. Success in this field requires a blend of specialized knowledge, regulatory understanding, and a passion for homeopathic practices.

Dr. Neelima Singh
Associate Professor
Pharmacy department
SKHMC&RC
Jaipur

Important clinical signs and rare homoeopathic medicines in dermatological disorders

Abstract: Dermatological disorders are one of the most common disorders. Homoeopathy is considered as one of the best alternative system for treating skin disorders. Sometimes well proven medicines do not produce desirable results and then rare medicines can be proved beneficial. This article is an attempt of exploring the literature available on rare remedies.

Keywords: Dermatological disorders, rare medicines, homoeopathy.

Role of Rare Homoeopathic medicines - Homoeopathic medicines treat these disorders in a very effective manner. When the homoeopathic medicine is given internally, it removes the root cause of external manifestation of internal disease rather than suppression by external application. In Aphorism 190- "All true medical treatment of a disease on the external parts of the body that has occurred from little or no injury from without must, therefore, be directed against the whole, must effect the annihilation and cure of the general maladies by means of internal remedies, if it is wished that the treatment should be judicious, sure, efficacious and radical."

When well proved remedies fail to cure, rare remedies can be beneficial. Some rare medicines along with objective and subjective symptoms are listed below-

- Astacus Fluviatilis

Objective-Nettle rash all over the body, Crusta lactea, with enlarged lymphatic glands, Swelling of cervical glands.

Subjective- Itching on various parts.

- Castor Equi-

Objective- Psoriasis Linguae. Warts on the forehead and breast. Chapped Hands, Brittle Nails, Cracked and ulcerated nipples. Brittle Nails.

Subjective- Violent itching in the breast.

- Chloral Hydrate-

Objective-Red blotches, like measles. Urticaria worse, spirituous liquors, hot drinks. Malignant pustules and carbuncles. Wheals come on from a chill; better warmth. Purpura.

Subjective-Intense itching .Stinging and biting here and there as of insects. Pruritus of the whole skin and mucous outlets..

- Comocladia Dentata-

Objective- Redness all over, like scarlatina. Erysipelas. Deep ulcers with hard edges. Red stripes on the skin. Eczema of the trunk and extremities; also of the pustule type.

Subjective-Painful burning in face and arms, violent itching. Tormenting itching and burning over whole body; violent itching and burning.

- Copaiva officinalis-

Objective- Nettle rash, isolated patches, pale or bright red, with violent itching; Hives with fever and constipation.

Subjective- Itching, raw spots between fingers. Itching in the skin.

- Euphorbium Officinarum-

Objective- Erysipelatous inflammation, especially of the cheek. Biting and stinging, red, swollen. Carbuncle; Old torpid ulcer, pustules; Gangrene.

Subjective-Biting, Stinging, gnawing; burning itching induces scratching. Biting exanthema, torpid, indolent ulcers with biting, lacinating pain.

- Hydrocotyle Asiatica-

Objective- Dry eruptions. Great thickening of epidermoid layer and exfoliation of scales (ichthyosis). Psoriasis gyrates on trunk and extremities, palms and soles. Pustules on chest. Circular spots with scaly edges. Acne, Copper colored eruptions Subjective- Intolerable itching, especially of soles. Pricking on different parts, itching in several places.

- Juglans cinerea –

Objective- Numerous and extensive patches of eruptions on body and extremities, varying in size from a dollar to man's hand. Chronic eczema of hands, the ichorous and semi-purulent secretion oozing upon exercising the hands, would crust over again, causing most intolerable itching and soreness.

Subjective- Painful itching causing an irresistible inclination to tear off the crusts; could neither sit or lie with any comfort.

- Rhus Veneta-

Objective- Vesicles (herpes). Erysipeals; skin dark red. Erythema Nodosum.

Subjective- Itching; relieved by hot water (chilblains). Nocturnal itching and pain in the long bones.

- Vespa –

Objective- Cheek much swollen and skin of bright red tint, redness spread rapidly in all directions over head and down neck, shoulders, back and front of chest. Prurigo – like, pinkish, lentil shaped spots on hand and forehead, on neck and all over to feet.

Subjective- Intense itching of part (right side of neck) everyday about 3 to 4 a.m, lasting about half an hour. Itching all over to a dreadful degree.

- Xerophyllum-

Objective- Erythema with vesication and intense itching, Blisters like little lump. Skin rough and cracked. Dermatitis, especially around the knees. Inguinal glands and popliteal fossa swollen.

Subjective- Intense itching with stinging and burning. Sensitive skin.

Conclusion

The role of Homoeopathic medicines is very pivotal in dermatological disorders. So we must consider the rare remedies in our clinical practice, when well indicated constitutional medicines do not give effective result.

Authors

Dr. Charu Agrawal, HOD, Associate Professor Physiology. Swasthya Kalyan Homoeopathic Medical College and Research Centre, Sitapura, Jaipur

Dr. Neha Kayath, Assistant Professor Physiology. Swasthya Kalyan Homoeopathic Medical College and Research Centre, Sitapura, Jaipur

“Our greatest weakness lies in giving up. The most certain way to succeed is always to try just one more time.”

-Thomas Edison

www.swasthyakalyan.org

Feedback/Queries: info@swasthyakalyan.org

